

FBI's secret fight against 'White hate groups' revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI ran a covert, 10-year operation to disrupt the Ku Klux Klan by distributing anonymous postcards and cartoons, forming a phony anti-Klan committee and planting anti-Klan articles in the news media, according to newly disclosed FBI documents.

FBI agents were put to work drawing cartoons and churning out broadsides to be mailed to known Klan members in an effort to stir up internal dissension and pressures from their families and employers.

The operation against the Klan and other so-called "white hate groups" such as the National States Rights party and the American Nazi party, was described in 125 pages of FBI files turned over Friday to reporters who petitioned for them under the Freedom of Information Act nine months ago.

The files provided the first public glimpse of the counterintelligence program, called Cointelpro by the FBI, against white hate groups. The FBI previously was forced to disclose documents dealing with operations against the Socialist Workers party and other leftist political groups.

The late J. Edgar Hoover, then the FBI director, launched the anti-Klan operation with a memo Sept. 2 1961, which said in part:

"The devious maneuvers and duplicity of these groups must be exposed to public scrutiny through the cooperation of reliable news media sources, both locally and at the Seat of Government (Washington)."

"We must frustrate any effort of the groups to consolidate their forces to recruit new or youthful adherents. In every instance, consideration should be given to disrupting the organized activity of these groups...."

File memos said 17 FBI field offices, primarily in the South, participated in the operation. The offices were not listed, but the memos described activities conducted in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, North Carolina, Florida and Virginia.

Previously disclosed files show that Hoover terminated all Cointelpro operations in April 1971.

The memos describe the anonymous mailing of about 6,000 postcards to Klan members at their homes and offices "to cause public identification of Klan members and spread dissension."

Postcards were used since "a number of persons would read them before delivery, thus exposing the Klansman and removing one of the Klan's most potent weapons — its veil of secrecy," said an April 1966 memo.

The FBI also believed the postcards would "cause disruption in the family and ... difficulty with employment."

Agents in the laboratory division were assigned to sketch postcard cartoons in an "amateurish" way. Two of them showed an obviously nervous Klansman attempting to hide behind his robe and carried the captions, "Trying to hide your identity behind your sheet? You received this — someone KNOWS who you are!" and "Someone is peeking under your sheet."

33,000 ton ship bursts into flame

40 saved as oil tanker rams platform; 6 lost

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Six crewmen were missing Friday after a 33,000-ton British tanker crashed into an offshore drilling platform, spilling much of the ship's 350,000 barrels of crude oil into the Gulf of Mexico.

Forty of the ship's 46 crewmen were rescued by tugs and other commercial vessels in the area. Coast Guard rescue vessels prowled the area for the missing men.

The ship was still burning internally Friday evening, and fire-fighting equipment was en route to the scene.

The Globtik Sun, owned by Globtik Tankers Bahamas Ltd., was manned by Filipino seamen with Norwegian officers. The ship was chartered by Exxon Co. USA and was en route from the West Indies to Baytown, Tex.

Ten crewmen rescued shortly after the 1:40 a.m. collision here, two of them in critical condition with burns. The other eight were treated and released. Still others were being flown to New Orleans by Coast Guard aircraft.

A column of black smoke poured 5,000 feet into the air from the tanker while puffs of smoke were seen belching from the stern and along deck.

The ship's captain, Noral E. Strangeland, 39, of Somme, Norway, escaped uninjured. He and crewmen told of coming on deck amid roaring flames and falling debris. At least three of the crewmen jumped into the ocean rather than face the raging fire.

"I looked out the porthole. Everything was in fire," Strangeland said. "We came down in lifeboats, and everything was in fire around us."

First Mate Reidar Kuntzen, 44, of Arendal, Norway, said, "I came out on deck and there was a lot of smoke and fire. Some of the men had jumped overboard."

Asked if he was afraid of sharks when he jumped from the vessel, crewman Marciano Garrido said, "I never even thought about sharks. I was concerned with saving my life."

"I didn't worry about sharks. I'm not afraid of sharks," said Adolfo Jandog, another sailor who leaped into the sea.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the tanker later drifted six miles from the platform, gushing crude oil from the 734-foot vessel's punctured hull. A heavy oil slick formed some two miles long and a half mile wide.

The 734-foot British tanker Globtik Sun burns in the Gulf of Mexico 100 miles south of Lake Charles, La., after it smashed into an unmanned drilling platform Friday. The fire is fed by 14.7 million gallons of oil it carried.

Scott denounces FBI

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Walter Scott, who had earlier accused his family of aiding fugitive newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst, denounced the FBI Friday and said he was going to New York City to "do what I can to help my brother."

Scott, a 42-year-old ex-Marine, said he changed his mind about giving the FBI further assistance because of their "incompetent handling of the investigation" and because of the psychological impact the investigation was having on his family.

He added that he "probably would not" cooperate with a federal grand jury that is scheduled to meet Aug. 19 in Harrisburg, Pa.

The grand jury is investigating reports that Miss Hearst hid last summer in a South Canaan, Pa., farmhouse rented by Micki Scott, wife of Scott's brother, Jack. Several key witnesses in the Hearst investigation, including Jack and Micki Scott, have been subpoenaed to testify.

Walter Scott phoned the Philadelphia bureau of The Associated Press on Friday morning to refute charges by his family that he is an alcoholic and psychopathic liar who has been "in and out of mental hospitals."

The allegations were made Thursday by Scott's father from his Las Vegas, Nev., home.

Copter crash kills 1, valley man critical

An Ontario man, serving as an observer on an Anaheim Police Department helicopter which crashed in the San Jacinto Mountains near Idyllwild Friday afternoon killing its pilot, was listed in critical condition Friday night at Hemet Valley Hospital.

Rescuers identified the observer as Robert DePatee, 24.

They said the pilot was Gary A. Nelson, 35, of Irvine.

These identifications were verified by the Anaheim Police Department. A department spokesman said both were officers in the department on a special assignment with the vice and narcotics division.

Nelson had been with the department since 1964 and was Anaheim's first helicopter pilot. DePatee joined the department in 1973. Anaheim police, following regular department procedure, refused to disclose the home addresses of the men.

Payoff try fails in Hoffa case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A California man was arrested by FBI agents after he told members of James R. Hoffa's family he would reveal the whereabouts of the missing former Teamsters Union leader for $100,000, authorities said Friday.

An FBI spokesman said David J. Allen, 38, of suburban Pico Rivera, was taken into custody Thursday night as he allegedly was talking to the Hoffa home at Lake Orion, Mich.

Allen, whom the spokesman said was "unaware of the present whereabouts of Hoffa," was booked for investigation of interstate fraud.

No bail figure was available immediately.

The FBI said Allen contacted the Hoffa home Aug. 8 and claimed he was a "free lance investigator who had sources in Los Angeles, Miami and Chicago and that he could locate Jimmy Hoffa within 10 days."

He then allegedly contacted Hoffa's son, James P. Hoffa, Thursday night and repeated the offer, demanding $100,000 for the information.

The FBI said Allen gave the younger Hoffa a telephone number where he could be contacted. Agents traced it to a restaurant and arrested Allen there, the spokesman said.

Allen is employed by a bakery at Whittier, the FBI said.

The helicopter went down near a Forest Service lookout tower on 10,831-foot Tahquitz Peak.

Anaheim Police Chief Harold Bastrup said the chopper was "on an official police assignment — a surveillance" but declined to identify the mission further.

A spokesman for the Riverside County sheriff's office said rescue workers reached the crash site in the late afternoon.

He said the color of the craft helped identify it as belonging to the Anaheim police.

Also want $1 million in damages

Police file claim for sick benefits

Pomona Police filed a claim with the city Friday seeking payment of sick leave benefits withheld by the city during the recent salary dispute.

The claim asks that $8,000 in sick leave benefits be paid officers who were absent from duty during the pay dispute, and also asks $1 million in punitive damages.

Benefits were withheld by the city on the grounds that many of the absences were not due to illness, but were part of a "blue flu" campaign in protest of the salary negotiations.

The city has demanded that officers provide documentation from a physician indicating that each officer was examined, found to be ill and prescribed treatment before returning to duty. Officers who have provided such documentation have been paid sick leave benefits.

About 80 absences are believed to be involved.

The Police Officers Association went to court last Thursday in an attempt to secure a restraining order against the city and end the withholding of benefits.

At that time, however, Superior Court Judge Paul Egly ruled against the police, stating that "irreparable damages" would not occur because of the city's action.

Richard TeFrank, vice president of the association, called the city's action "arbitrary, capricious and unlawful."

The city based its action on an emergency ordinance passed June 30 that required a doctor's statement of illness for absences occurring during labor negotiation.

Negotiations ended Tuesday when the city mandated a 5 per cent salary increase for police when no formal agreement could be reached.

The Pomona City Council is expected to ratify an ordinance Monday night implementing the 5 per cent increase retroactive to July 1.

The claim will probably be considered by the council later this month. If ended, the police may then file a law suit for the damages.

Spain makes demand for U.S. bases

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Spain, negotiating a new five-year agreement on U.S. bases, will demand the evacuation of all three air bases and $2 billion in economic and military aid, the pro-government newspaper Arriba said Friday.

A qualified Spanish source said the demands did not form "a package" and were ideas that have been presented during lengthy talks scheduled to resume here Monday.

The agreement would replace one that expires Sept. 25 and covers the nuclear submarine base at Rota and air bases at Torrejon, Zaragoza and Moron.

Pacoima Canyon blaze controlled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Full control of the stubborn Pacoima Canyon brush fire was announced Friday evening by fire fighters who said they had suppressed all flare-ups in the blaze which burned over 7,620 acres.

The U.S. Forest Service had announced containment a day earlier when the blaze was ringed by fire breaks.

Mop-up operations were expected to continue for a week or more.

Earlier, fire officials credited helicopters flown at night by pilots wearing $14,000-a-pair light-sensitive goggles with helping contain the fire.

The arson-caused blaze could have spread farther were it not for the helicopter missions and several other innovations, said a Forest Service spokesman.

An extensive system of fire breaks—bare paths cut in the vegetation—and a new way of coordinating state, county and federal agencies were important weapons against the fire, he said.

Ehrlichman appeals conviction, says Nixon should have testified

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman asked the U.S. Court of Appeals Friday to overturn his conviction in the Watergate cover-up because he was deprived of the testimony of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Ehrlichman was convicted of conspiracy to obstruct justice, obstruction of justice and two counts of lying under oath and sentenced to 2 1/2 to 3 years in prison. He is free pending outcome of the appeal and now lives in Santa Fe, N. M., where he is working on a book about Watergate.

Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, and Robert C. Mardian, convicted with Ehrlichman, filed their appeals earlier. H. R. Haldeman, who had been Nixon's chief of staff, has until the end of the month to file his brief.

Ehrlichman's appeal was based on five points:

—The trial court's failure to delay the trial until Nixon, who was ill, could testify.

—Admitting into evidence Ehrlichman's role in the Ellsberg break-in case, for which he was convicted.

—The inability of Ehrlichman to get all the documents he wanted from the White House.

—The failure to ferret out prejudiced jurors "in light of unprecedented prejudicial pretrial publicity."

—Failure to grant Ehrlichman a trial separate from the others.

Man, 18, guilty in shooting death, placed on probation

Darrell Ray Hart, 18, Ontario, Friday was placed on 3-year probation after pleading guilty to an involuntary manslaughter charge in connection with the June 19 shooting death of an Ontario man.

Hart, appearing before West Valley Superior Court Judge Clifton L. Allen, admitted to the shooting of David Lee MacCardia, 22, 135 N. Miramonte Ave. MacCardia died of a gunshot wound to the heart. The district attorney's office formally charged Hart with manslaughter following a police investigation into the shooting.

On June 26, Hart, before West Valley Municipal Court Judge Martin Hildreth, pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Hart told investigators that he could not remember exactly what happened the night of June 19. He said he did not remember shooting MacCardia as both men had been drinking heavily that evening.

Judge Allen, after placing Hart on 3-year probation, said he would withhold pronouncement of judgement until after the probationary period, with the understanding Hart would receive credit for time already served in county jail.

McVittie's bill to fight traffic tickets approved

Legislation by Assemblyman Bill McVittie, D-65th Dist., making it easier to fight traffic tickets in court has been approved by the Senate Committee on Judiciary.

McVittie's bill allows simultaneous arraignment and trial of a traffic case.

Currently, a motorist appears once before the court to plead not guilty. He then must return at another date for the actual trial and disposition of the case.

"Missing two days work is often more expensive and time consuming than merely paying the fine," said McVittie. "My bill simplifies procedures and is much fairer to motorists. People shouldn't be forced to pay a fine and accept guilt simply because court procedures make it impractical to fight an unjustified citation."

The legislation is part of a court reform package designed to simplify and speed up traffic court cases. Many courts currently are faced with a serious case backlog.

"Courts should be free to handle more serious crimes and major felonies," McVittie argued before the Senate committee.

His bill also includes provisions which will make it easier for motorists to forfeit bail in lieu of appearing and pleading innocent. Officers issuing citations would give motorists a notice outlining procedures to forfeit bail or plead not guilty.

McVittie said the bill would not affect the amount of fines or bail. The sole purpose of the bill is to simplify traffic court procedures, he explained.

Woman jailed

Marijuana plants found in Chino yard

A 23-year-old Chino woman was arrested Friday at 5:30 p.m. when Officer Ken Duvall found 43 marijuana plants growing in her backyard and a quantity of stolen property in her home.

Lodged in Chino City Jail was Stephanie Motola, 5212 Washington Ave. Duvall said the department would seek a formal complaint against her from the district attorney.

She is charged with suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale, possession of stolen property, possession of paraphernalia and the cultivation of marijuana.

Inside the home, Duvall found several telephones which he said had been stolen from the General Telephone Co., a commercial drill motor which had been stolen from the Chino school district and articles reported stolen by her husband's employer.

Duvall said a similar complaint would be sought against the woman's husband, Albert Motola, 25, who is hospitalized in the Sherman Oaks area.

Chief sees no solution to riots in Riverside

RIVERSIDE (AP) — Police held suspects and evidence Friday but conceded they had no long term solutions for the hatred which erupted into a four-hour gun battle with Casa Blanca residents Thursday.

The investigation into Thursday's incident continued with three men held for investigation of attempted murder. A handgun was retained for a ballistics examination.

"I wish I could tell you the answer to the violence but I can't," said Police Chief Fred Ferguson. He said seven policemen have been shot in the 6,000 member, predominantly Mexican-American community since 1971. Sniping at police cars is common, officers say.

Omnitrans mini-buses are termed 'successful'

By MAE TATE
PB Staff Writer

The Omnitrans mini-buses looping throughout the West End communities have been dubbed "successful and well-received" with ridership figures moving steadily upward since June.

The public transportation service began in January with large numbers of West End residents enjoying free rides. The figures dropped soon after the beginning of fares in late April, but are beginning to peak again in the July figures.

Dick Joye, public transit dispatcher for the operation of the West Valley Transit Service Authority, reported that buses running through Chino, Los Serranos, Montclair, Ontario, Upland, Alta Loma and Cucamonga have been supported by residents.

"The five routes are successful and well-received by the people in the West End. Everyday the phone is ringing off the hook. People call constantly wanting information and directions on getting to the closest bus stop," Joye said.

Senior citizens and handicapped persons, utilizing a $3 one-time savers pass, are the most frequent riders, mixing with young students, housewives, shoppers and workers.

During the last week of July, the routes had riderships of 750 for Alta Loma-Cucamonga; 1,710 for Montclair; 825 for Chino-Los Serranos; 930 for Chino-Montclair; and 2,875 for Ontario-Upland.

Of those 6,090 passengers, approximately 2,575 were seniors and handicapped. Ontario-Upland had the highest number with 930 elderly and Montclair was second with 540.

Ontario also led that week in the number of children under 10 riding free when accompanied by an adult. Approximately 255 youngsters boarded the extended line for Ontario and Upland.

Kids numbered 145 for Chino-Los Serranos; 130 for Montclair; 90 for Chino-Montclair and 60 for Alta Loma-Cucamonga.

The individual routes, except for Montclair and Chino-Montclair, had their highest weekly ridership since fares were charged from July 14-20. That week, Ontario-Upland carried about 3,000 passengers and Chino-Los Serranos transported 987. Alta Loma-Cucamonga had 860 passengers.

Montclair's high came June 9-15 with 2,345 riders. Chino-Montclair's peak came July 21-27 with the 930 figure.

The highest weekly total — 7,450 — also came July 14-20.

The WVTSA contracted with San Bernardino County for operation of the fixed route systems, beginning the service on a staggered basis for each city from January to June.

Montclair and the unincorporated county areas of Alta Loma and Cucamonga were first to initiate the public transit system. Both routes began on a fare-free basis on Jan. 16. The Chino-Los Serranos run began March 3.

Ridership on these three lines a month prior to the implementation of the regular 25 cents was approximately 1,450 in Alta-Loma-Cucamonga, 2,650 in Montclair and 2,425 in Chino-Los Serranos. These are weekly figures.

With the start-up on April 21 of an expanded two-bus service in Ontario and Upland, fares were charged on all routes. Ridership dropped slightly that first week of fares with only 750 on the Alta Loma-Cucamonga line, 2,400 on Montclair and 1,950 on Chino-Los Serranos.

The new Ontario-Upland route had a ridership of 2,575 within its first week.

The Chino-Montclair route began June 16 and had an initial ridership of 72 passengers. By the end of July, that number was up to 930.

Although the passenger load has fluctuated from week to week, the decreases on each line were never substantial, said Joye. And the summer months have stimulated a rise in passengers traveling.

In addition to Joye, the Omnitrans staff of county employees include Joyce Latham, secretary, and Frank Ringard, vehicle maintenance director. Thirteen drivers work out of the facility at 1414 W. Holt Blvd., using six regular buses and two back-up buses.

Besides serving as the public transit dispatch personnel in the West End, the staff coordinates public relations between WVTSA and the communities; maintains communications with the city halls in Chino, Montclair, Ontario and Upland; delivers bus schedules and saver passes to the respective cities; installs bus signs and benches, and trains the bus drivers.

West Covina attorney now S.B. County judge

Former West Covina attorney Howard B. Wiener, 44, Friday was formally installed as San Bernardino County Superior Court judge in special ceremonies in the San Bernardino County Courthouse.

Wiener was appointed by Gov. Edward G. Brown to the newly created judgeship in San Bernardino County after recent census figures showed the county had added another 50,000 residents in the past few years.

Judge Wiener was formally installed Friday by Don A. Turner presiding judge of the Superior Court, but for the past few weeks has been hearing cases after an informal swearing in ceremony performed by Judge Turner on Aug. 2.

Wiener headed a law firm in West Covina and was vice president of the Board of Governors for the State Bar Association. He is a graduate of Harvard Law School and earned Phi Beta Kappa and cum laude honors as a graduate of Brown University in Rhode Island.

Following the formal installation ceremonies Friday a reception for the new judge was held in the California Room of the San Bernardino Convention Center.

Chino man hurt when struck by his own auto

A Chino man was seriously injured Thursday when a car he was repairing began moving forward and fell to the bottom of an empty swimming pool.

Robert Findleton, 19, of Rt. 3 was admitted to Chino General Hospital's intensive care unit, where his condition is termed stable.

Findleton was standing directly in front of the vehicle working on the engine when he shorted the electrical system, causing the engine to start, said highway patrolmen.

Youth turns self in in burglary

A 16-year-old juvenile appeared at the Ontario police station Thursday and admitted to a burglary of a home at 1844 E. Plaza Serena between July 11 and Aug. 1, police said.

The youth is being held in the West End Jail this morning on suspicion of burglary, pending disposition to juvenile authorities.

Police said the youth walked into the station after talking to his parents and admitted taking a number of items from the home of William Donald Trawick, 31. Trawick reported that a skill saw, money, and a pair of binoculars were taken from his home while he was away on vacation.

The youth told officers he pawned several of the items in a valley pawn shop.

Warfels to live and work in Saipan

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Getting a new lease on life with a new job in a new home are Guy and Helen Warfel of La Verne.

The Warfels will leave Sunday by airplane for Saipan, where Warfel has accepted a position as science teacher at Marianas High School.

His wife, Helen, will accompany him and may land a job teaching while she is there.

Guy retired in June as principal at Danbury School in Claremont. He completed 24 years as an administrator for the Claremont Unified School District.

Helen is on a one-year leave of absence until next February from the Claremont district, where she is a learning assistance teacher.

Housing will be provided for the Warfels, who have sent their essential household goods ahead of them by parcel post.

They will take with them the normally allotted 44 pounds each of clothing aboard the airliner.

Furniture they will not take with them will be stored by the U.S. government, which governs Saipan through a high commissioner appointed by the president.

Warfel's one-year contract is with the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, which includes the Carolines, Marshalls and the Marianas, except Guam, which has its own governor.

The Trust Territory is administered by the Office of Territorial Affairs to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

In a plebiscite this year, residents of the territory voted for citizenship of the United States.

"It will be interesting to live there during this period of development, and see if they get their wish," Warfel said.

Mrs. Warfel is looking especially forward to living on Saipan, which is part of Micronesia. As a child she lived in Oahu, where her father was a professor of physics.

"I was enchanted with the Polynesian culture and customs of the people of Saipan and Tinian," Mrs. Warfel said.

The Warfels spent six weeks in 1972 touring the islands of the south Pacific, where they visited Australia, Fiji, and American Samoa.

Then in 1973, Warfel suggested: "Wouldn't it be nice when I retire if I retire early and we see if we can line up work in one of those areas?"

He began writing letters to armed forces schools and others, and the new position is the fruit of that labor of correspondence.

The Warfels could find out little at the library about their new home, but friends have been sending them news clippings about the islands.

Warfel last taught science full time in 1949, but as a principal he has been involved in the science curriculum, and has often served as a substitute science teacher.

The couple will fly to Honolulu, then to Guam Monday. During their trip they will lose a day, and will land on Saipan Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. That will give them a full day in which to get their bearings.

The Warfels met when they were both employees of the Bonita School District. They built their home in La Verne in 1958, and have lived there ever since.

Warfel just finished a year as president of the Claremont Kiwanis Club, and was granted a leave of absence.

Fiesta Bonita plans complete

The annual Fiesta Bonita of Holy Name of Mary Church in San Dimas will feature games, food, a treasure hunt, dancers and troubadours next Friday through Sunday.

Activities will begin at 6 p.m. Friday with opening ceremonies performed by the Rev. Michael Brooks, pastor, at 1 p.m. Aug. 23 and at noon, Aug. 24. Activities will end at 11 p.m. each day.

The second annual treasure hunt, with a prize of $250 worth of U.S. bonds, will highlight the fiesta. Mike Bagan, fiesta chairman, said the hunt will be extended to midnight Aug. 29 so as many persons as possible can participate.

A palm-size, gold token will be hidden somewhere within the city limits of either San Dimas or La Verne on Aug. 25. The person who finds it will be given the $250 bond prize if he returns it to the church office at 333 N. San Dimas Canyon Road by the deadline.

Bagan emphasized that it will not be necessary to trespass on private property to reach the treasure token. It will be hidden in a place normally accessible to the general public.

A total of eight clues — two on Friday, three each on Saturday and Sunday — to the token's location will be posted at the Fiesta Bonita ticket booth. The daily clues will not be repeated the following day.

Jennifer Bartman, nine-year-old San Dimas girl, was last year's winner in the treasure hunt.

No purchase is required for treasure hunters to obtain the clues.

The Ballet Folklorico de Aztlan Mexican dancers will present a colorful performance for participants at 6 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

The Trio Los Carreteros, Mexican troubadours, will play at 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. This group recently concluded engagements at Disneyland, Magic Mountain and numerous Southern California restaurants.

A special children's matinee is planned between 2 and 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Carnival ride tickets will be slashed to 25 cents each for all those 12 and younger during the matinee hours.

The fiesta's 14-foot diameter Mexican sombrero will be on display again this year.

Among those assisting general chairman Bagan are Tony Agnello, Lynn Nicholson, Paul Layman, Ira Knostman, Joanne Rody, Tom Winters, Jim Mattson, Ray Boutton and Don Ranney. In addition, more than 500 Holy Name of Mary parishioners are directly involved in planning for the celebration.

CATHOLICS PROTEST — Archbishop Francisco Maria da Silva of Braga, Portugal receives bundles containing 100,000 signatures protesting the Portuguese government's failure to respond to the military takeover of a Catholic radio station. The archbishop this week addressed some 80,000 demonstrating Catholics from the steps of Braga Cathedral.

Is the U.S. disregarding its history, its culture?

By George W. Cornell
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — To understand today is to be acquainted with yesterday. To get anywhere is to go from somewhere. To comprehend a single word is only from its previously given meanings. Even to know yourself is to know the prior tempering that made you. The "before" makes the "now" and the past the present.

These are stock philosophical truisms. But there are signs in modern America that the culture is tending to disregard its past substance, to become a "cut-flower civilization" severed from root values and focused only influences of the moment.

Contemporary education concentrates increasingly on "specialized knowledge" to serve corporate, technological needs in a commercialized society, says noted sociologist Robert Bellah of the University of California. He adds that as this kind of knowledge proliferates, "meaning collapses."

The erosion of "meaning is the chief threat to culture," he told a recent interdenominational gathering here of church educators.

Several indications have turned up lately in the educational world of shrinking interest in cumulative insights from the past and evaluation of life's significance. The American Philosophical Association reports that 500 of the 8,000 academic philosophers in the United States have lost their teaching jobs this year.

An additional 2,000 recent doctoral graduates in philosophy are unable to find positions, the association says, and some have turned to such jobs as clerking in stores or driving cabs. There apparently is declining demand in the present climate for "thinkers" about basic meanings.

Historians also have become a surplus on the market. At a recent meeting in Boston of the Organization of American Historians, it was reported that about 600 historians with newly earned doctorates are seeking college and university posts this year, but only 30 openings are in sight.

The others are hunting jobs in industries or on the public payroll.

Both these disciplines, philosophy and history, are closely linked with religious faith, since recognition of transcendent reality is based both on accumulated reasoning and experiences through history. Sagging interest in those friends cuts at the structure of religion.

One of the distinguishing marks of Biblical faith is that its concepts are derived from history itself.

But even in religion, its relation to historical life and meaning has "given way to the tyranny of the immediate religious experience," the Rev. Wallace M. Alston Jr. of Princeton, N.J., writes in "Christianity and Crisis."

Theology itself has become a "pawn in the socio-cultural process," says the Rev. Dr. Gordon D. Kaufman of Harvard Divinity School, reducing the once "queen of sciences" to the level of a "common prostitute" in captivity to modern fads.

The Rev. Dr. Roger L. Shinn, of New York's Union Theological Seminary, says, "We live in one of those times when it is not easy to put things together."

And putting things together is what makes for truth, the thinkers say.

The devil displacing fathers, says Benson

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Ezra Taft Benson, senior patriarch of the Mormon church, said today he believes that the Devil is trying to displace the father as head of the family.

And Benson, speaking on the final day of a two-day church meeting here, blamed working wives for weakening the institution of marriage.

"The undermining of the home and family is on the increase with the Devil anxiously working to displace the father as the head of the home and create rebellion among the children," said Benson, 76, president of the Council of Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

"The seeds of divorce are often sown and the blessings of the children delayed by wives working outside the home," said Benson. "Working mothers should remember that their children usually need more of a mother than of money."

"It is time that the hearts of us fathers are turned to our children and the hearts of the children are turned to us fathers."

Benson said there is no generation gap in homes where fathers have time for their children. He said: "This deceptive phrase of the generation gap is another tool of the Devil to weaken the home and family."

On sterilization and abortion, Benson said: "Let me warn the sisters in all seriousness that you who submit yourselves to an abortion or an operation that precludes you from safely having additional children are jeopardizing your exaltation and your future membership in the Kingdom of God."

Earlier in the day Benson, ranking apostle of the church and former agriculture secretary under the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, visited the International Rice Research Institute in Banos.

Church president Spencer W. Kimball and David M. Kennedy, a high church official and a former U.S. secretary of the treasury, conferred with President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Worship time at the theater

OXON HILL, Md. (AP)

— The congregation sits in bucket seats instead of pews, and listens to the sermon through window-mounted speakers. But the Rev. G. Gordon Clews says "the singing is always there, and so is the religious effect" at his drive-in church.

Every Sunday morning during the summer, the Rev. Mr. Clew, church organist Nan Burke and songleader Lou Thornhill climb to the top of the concession stand at the ABC Wineland Drive-In Theater in this suburb of the nation's capital and lead about 30 carloads of worshippers.

Ushers guide the parishioners into parking spaces for the 7:30 a.m. service. Hymns are sung and a collection is taken, with ushers going from car to car gathering the money in popcorn boxes.

"What hits me is the participation of the people in the cars," said the Rev. Mr. Clews, who also holds services later in the day each Sunday in the more conventional Providence United Methodist Church in nearby Friendly, Md.

The minister said he approached the owners of the theater earlier this year with the idea of using it for a drive-in chapel. They agreed to donate the theater, the clean-up crew and the platform on top of the concession stand.

The drive-in idea, he said, had worked in several churches he headed in western Maryland, where he used them to overcome the traditional summer attendance slump.

"That drop in attendance is partly due to people who want to get an early start on the day and enjoy the last part of the weekend," he said. "This way, they're already in their cars and can leave right from church. They can also dress however they want to."

About the only problem the Rev. Mr. Clew said he faces with the drive-in church is the weather. If it rains, the service must move inside the concession stand.

"But in over five years of drive-in services," he added, "we have yet to encounter a rainy Sunday."

Witnesses to attend convention

The valley congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in California Circuit 33 will participate in a four-day circuit convention on Aug. 21 to 24.

Meetings will be held at the Norco Assembly Hall, according to W. T. Nunn, overseer in the Claremont area.

Over 3,000 delegates will participate in the sessions. The meetings will be opened by E. L. Manfredi, a traveling minister from the Watchtower Society's headquarters in New York City.

One of the features of the assembly will be the baptism service, marking the ordination of new ministers, on Aug. 23. It will be conducted by C. K. Spieth of the Pomona congregation.

All sessions are free and open to the public.

He gets his canteen back

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — In 1941 Lorenzo Lorenzo of Redding scratched his name on the canteen he was issued by the Army on his first day of basic training.

Lorenzo spent 37 months island-hopping in the South Pacific with the Infantry. Somehow the canteen went astray, but a few weeks ago a friend bought the canteen in a surplus store and saw Lorenzo's name. He made sure that Lorenzo was given the canteen.

Valley Drive-in

The Rev. Bill O'Connor, former staff member of the Valley Community Drive-in Church of San Dimas, will be the guest speaker Sunday at both morning worship services.

His topic at the 8:30 a.m. service will be "How To Win the Race of Life." At the 11 a.m. service, he will speak on "How To Realize Your Full Potential."

Mr. O'Connor was minister of Christian education and youth at the local church until last year when he became associate pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Monrovia.

The Sunday evening service at the church will begin with special singing at 8. A Christian film "He Restoreth My Soul" will follow.

Trinity Lutheran

The Rev. Maynard Saeger, pastor, will meet with the youth of Trinity Lutheran Church in Montclair at 6:30 p.m. Sunday to discuss future programs.

Besides Bible study, the youth will consider good-will trips to local rest homes.

Mr. Saeger will speak on the theme "Jesus Heals the Afflicted" at 10 a.m. Sunday. His 7:30 p.m. Thursday topic will be "Jesus: Sent by God."

Unitarian Society

Fraser Powlison of Claremont, a clinical psychologist, will speak to members and friends of the Pomona Valley Unitarian Society in Montclair at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

His topic will be "The Psychology of Movies."

Bethany Baptist

The film "In God We Trust" will be shown at 6 p.m. Sunday at the Bethany Baptist Church of Montclair.

The film is about the travels of a former senator, his two grandsons and a hitchhiker to the historical sites of early America. The screening is open to the public.

Children make seniors smile

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — For weeks the tiny tots attending the Tamalpais Nursery school watched their somewhat senior neighbors in the Redwoods Retirement Home across the street. Many of the seniors were confined to wheel chairs; others walked with canes. Then one of the tiny tots made a suggestion: "Let's visit those old ladies across the street."

The nursery school teacher thought it would be a good idea and it was arranged.

Now, once a week the little ones bring smiles and happiness to the faces of the older ones.

Nazarene's guest speaker selected

The Rev. Herman Burton, associate pastor of the Upland Church of the Nazarene, will be guest speaker at 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. services Sunday at the First Church of the Nazarene in Pomona. A farewell reception will follow the evening service honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Ed West. Mr. West has served as youth minister at the church during the past year. He now is entering full-time evangelistic work.

Mr. West attended Pasadena College and was ordained in May in Riverside. His wife and son, Jeff, will accompany him on a fall evangelistic tour through California, Arizona and Colorado.

Mr. Burton attended Bethany and Pasadena Nazarene colleges. He began his ministry in 1926 in Oklahoma. He moved to California and served several churches before entering full-time evangelism in 1971.

He served as pastor of the Upland church from 1944 to 1951.

Puppet play ready for presentation

A puppet play, "Noah and the Ark," will be presented during the service at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at the United Methodist Church in La Verne.

The play will be directed by Scott and Kerry Kiphart, two children, who have been rehearsing for the past month.

They made their own sets, taped their own script, and learned to manipulate their own puppets, according to Cindy Charles, superintendent of the church's summer school.

Baritone soloist George Walker will sing "The Lord's Prayer" as part of the service.

The church will hold its 14th annual deep pit barbecue from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Sept. 6 at the church grounds.

The event will mark the beginning of the fall program. Entertainment will include pony wagon rides for children.

Glenn Hall is general chairman. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. The entire community is invited.

Churches schedule evening Bible study

The Pomona and Chino churches of Christ will conduct their summer vacation Bible school on Monday through Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Vinton Avenue Church of Christ, Pomona.

The summer program is being held in the evening because many of the youngsters and teachers are from the Chino area where schools are in session during the summer.

"Jesus Calls Me" is the theme for the Bible-centered program open to all ages from 4 up. The programs will include, in addition to Bible study, crafts, refreshments and entertainment for all ages.

An all-school picnic will be held Aug. 24 for the congregations of the churches and the Bible school members.

The summer Bible school is free and open to all interested persons. For information, call 622-4880.

Husband and wife teams forming clergy couples

NEW YORK (AP) — A new kind of ministerial team — the clergy couple — is multiplying among American Protestant churches, and seems destined to become a familiar arrangement.

With the current upsurge of women training in the nation's seminaries and with many of them marrying male ministers, the prospect was strong for a growing corps of husband-and-wife ministerial partnerships.

"It's the coming thing," says the Rev. Thomas Knutson, pastor of First Lutheran Church in Harvey, Ill. His wife, Karen, also is an ordained Lutheran Church of America minister.

Recognizing such pairs as a swelling trend, the United Methodist Church's division of ordained ministry recently held its first conference about it, noting that 93 clergy couples now hold posts in the denomination.

Their joint vocation should be seen, not as a problem, but as "opportunities for new and creative ministry," 12 ordained couples participating in the meeting at Nashville, Tenn., said in a statement.

The wedded ministries have developed in most major Protestant denominations. A United Presbyterian assembly last year suggested congregations consider calling "husbands and wives who desire to serve as an or-dain team in the same church."

Some of the couples do so, while others serve different parishes in the same geographical vicinity. In other cases, one of the couple leads a congregation while the other serves as a chaplain at some nearby institution.

The couples-of-the cloth say there are some difficulties in their status, as well as advantages, including the added necessity of finding posts close together.

NCAA cuts costs

CHICAGO (AP) — The NCAA's special economics convention adjourned Friday after setting limits on coaching staffs, reducing travel squads in football and basketball and significantly cutting off-campus contacts colleges may make in their recruiting efforts.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said he believed member schools in Divisions I and II—the largest of the NCAA's 700-plus schools—had cut costs by some $15 million as a result of the measures adopted at this convention which was called to avert athletic bankruptcy by a number of colleges.

The convention adjourned after dealing with about 50 of the 73 pieces legislation presented to it in an effort to reverse a situation in which more than 80 per cent of the colleges now show a deficit in their athletic budgets. Not acted upon were three controversial share-the-wealth proposals that would have divided up receipts from bowl games, TV and the NCAA basketball tournament.

The balance of the proposals will be dealt with at another special meeting, probably just before the next regular NCAA convention next January in St. Louis.

Delegations voted Thursday to terminate the $15 per month expense money that scholarship grants have traditionally included, meaning no scholarship athlete will now be able to receive any money legally.

On Friday, coaching staffs were slashed. Division I members—the 234 largest colleges—agreed to get by with a head coach, eight assistants and two part-time assistants in football and a head coach, two assistants and one part-time assistant in basketball. There had been no limits previously.

The delegates also set limits on traveling squads in most sports. Football teams will be limited to taking 48 players for road games and basketball teams slashed to 10. There had been no previous limits.

The convention also said no college may visit any recruit off its campus more than three times, and time periods were set for when those visits may take place. And no high school athlete may accept more than six expense-paid visits to a college. There had been no previous limits.

John R. Davis, faculty representative of Oregon State, presented the coaching staff reduction proposal to the convention, saying, "There is no greater way to reduce costs than by reducing salaries and that means reducing coaches." The convention adopted a motion to reach those levels through attrition if tenure or individual contracts prevent applying them.

The staff size reduction was adopted after a Southwest Conference measure that would have cut football staffs to nine persons involved in full-time coaching by Sept. 1, 1977 was defeated. Those nine would have been required to do all of the school's off-campus recruiting.

Another major cost-cutting proposal which was adopted on Thursday, the first day of the convention, cuts total scholarships which any school may offer in minor sports (all except football and basketball) from 209 to 80. That measure will mean that about 35 fewer athletes will receive scholarships for minor sports at the average school.

Among the resolutions that never reached the floor of the convention were the three share-the-wealth measures sponsored by Dr. Stephen Horn, president of Long Beach State, and by the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, of which his school is a member.

Green and Bies tied at Hartford

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Hubert Green, who may be called away from the golf tournament at any moment to be with his wife for the birth of their first child, birdied the final hole for a 65 and a tie with Don Bies for the lead after Friday's second round of the $200,000 Greater Hartford Open.

"She knows my position," Green said of his wife, Judi, after his six-under-par effort on the 6,598-yard Wethersfield Country Club course. "If she wants me, she'll call, and I'll go."

Green, a four-time winner last season but in a slump most of this year, and the veteran Bies put together two-round totals of 131, 11 under par after two trips over the cozy layout that often yields some of the lowest scores of the season.

Bies, 37, who has yet to win in nine years on the tour, had a second-round 66.

Three strokes back were U.S. Open champion Lou Graham, J.C. Snead and Larry Nelson, tied for third at 134. Graham had another 67, Nelson shot 66 and Snead had a 68 in the mild, hazy weather.

Tom Shaw and Andy North were at 135, seven under and four back. North had a 69 and Shaw a 67.

Johnny Miller and defending champion Dave Stockton were in a group at 136. Stockton and Miller each shot second-round 67s.

"It was a good round," Miller said.

"I drove it straight and I hit my irons straight. It was kinda nice to see the ball go straight for a change."

Lee Trevino rallied with a 65, including 30 on his front nine, and was at 137 after an opening 72.

"Some days you tee it up and it just ain't there," Trevino said. "Then the next day you go out and you're playing as good as you ever did."

South African Gary Player shot a 68 and was at 137.

Jack Nicklaus, winner of the PGA National Championship last week, and Arnold Palmer are not competing.

Green lashed a five iron only a foot from the cup for the birdie on the 18th hole that gave him a share of the halfway lead. It was the fifth time of the day he had put irons inside of five feet.

"I hit the ball so close to the hole I felt like Johnny Miller out there for a while," he quipped. "I scared myself."

Four of his birdies came on tap-ins of two feet or less, one was from five feet, one from eight and one from about 10 feet.

His only bogey came on the ninth, where he missed the green and chipped poorly.

Bies didn't make a bogey. He scored once from about 30 feet, got four more birdies in the 8-to-10-foot range and saved par with six foot putts on the only two greens he missed.

Dodgers beaten by big inning

MONTREAL (AP) — Larry Parrish cracked a two-run double to highlight a five-run fifth-inning and the Montreal Expos snapped a six-game losing streak with an 8-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night.

Parrish's hit scored Mike Jorgensen and Larry Bittner. Bittner had doubled to drive in pitcher Steve Rogers with a double after Rogers and Jorgensen had walked.

The Expos scored in each of the first two innings before Los Angeles counted in the top of the fifth.

In the first, Jim Dwyer and Jorgensen walked and Bittner singled Dwyer home. Montreal got its second run when Rogers hit his first major-league triple to score Foote from first.

A triple by Mackanin and Carter's sacrifice fly produced Montreal's eighth run off reliever Stan Wall in the seventh inning.

The Dodgers got their run in the fifth on a single by Bill Russell, a double by Dave Lopes and a run-producing infield out by Bill Buckner. Lopes cracked a two-out, three-run home run in the ninth for the other Los Angeles runs.

The Dodgers had a mild threat in the top of the eighth when Rogers walked Wynn and Steve Garvey with two out. Both runners advanced a base when Rogers threw wildly at second in an attempt to pick off Wynn, but Rogers fanned Willie Crawford for the third consecutive time.

Rogers, 9-9, fanned nine and walked five and scattered seven Dodgers hits as he brought his lifetime record against the Dodgers to 2-1.

Dodgers starter Don Sutton, 16-10, lasted 42-3 innings and was charged with seven earned runs. Lifetime, Sutton is 12-5 against Montreal.

The loss snapped a six-game Los Angeles winning streak and they now are 3-3 in games against Montreal in 1975.

Tigers for real—lose to Halos

ANAHEIM (AP) — Frank Tanana pitched a four-hitter and rode a six-run eighth inning to victory Friday night as the California Angels blasted Detroit 8-0 to hand the staggering Tigers their 19th consecutive defeat.

The loss brought the Tigers within one of the American League record of 20 set by Boston in 1906 and tied by the Philadelphia A's in 1916 and 1943. The modern day major league record of 23 losses was set by the Philadelphia Phillies in 1961.

Ron Leflore's sixth-inning single, Willie Horton's seventh and ninth-inning singles and Tom Verver's eighth-inning single were the lone safeties for Detroit.

Mickey Rivers' sixth-inning single drove in the game's first run and snapped a pitching duel between Tanana, 11-6, and Mickey Lolich, 10-13.

The Angels added a run in the seventh on a double by Bruce Bochte and Ellie Rodriguez' sacrifice fly. They scored six more in the eighth on Lee Stanton's single, Bochte's three-run homer and RBI singles by Mike Miley and Dave Collins.

Tanana struck out eight to raise his major league leading total to 179 for the year. Lolich lost his eighth straight game.

Bochte also had a pair of doubles for California, which won its sixth game in seven starts.

The snake-bitten and slumpridden Tigers went quietly before Tanana for the first five innings, failing to come close to a hit.

The hardest hit ball was a line drive to right by Aurelio Rodriguez to lead off the fourth but Lee Stanton had to range only a few steps to tuck it away.

Ron Leflore shattered Tanana's no-hit bid with a leadoff single in the sixth, a hard shot into the hole between third and short. Leflore was then thrown out attempting to steal.

The Angels finally cracked the scoreless tie in the sixth when Dave Collins led off with a single up the middle, was sacrificed to second by Jerry Remy and scored on a single by Mickey Rivers which went under Lolich's glove and into centerfield.

Rivers stole second and went to third on Dan Meyer's throwing error but Lolich stranded him by retiring Lee Stanton and Dave Chalk.

Pleasure won't run

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — The Travers attracted six 3-year-olds Friday. But the glamor colt, Foolish Pleasure, will remain in his barn when the historic stakes gets its 106th running.

"I just don't think he's up to 1 1/4 miles right now," said trainer Leroy Jolley after failing to enter the Kentucky Derby winner in the Saturday's $100,000-added Travers at Saratoga.

"I certainly wouldn't want to start him unless I felt he was really ready," Jolley told a New York Racing Association spokesman. "I don't think it would be fair to enter him and then scratch tomorrow. There might be a number of people who come to see him run and then be disappointed when he was scratched."

"I had only three works in him," said Jolley. "The heavy rains made for a bad track much of the time and even that work between races last week couldn't tell me much, he was so far off the rail."

"Right now I'd say the Governor ($100,000-added at Belmont Park Sept. 1) would be next in line. It will be easier to get him up for 1 1/4 miles than for 1 1/2 miles."

Bengals' passing tops Bills

BUFFALO (AP) — Cincinnati veteran Ken Anderson tossed two touchdown passes and rookie Gary Sheide threw one as the Bengals defeated the Buffalo Bills 38-28 Friday night in a National Football League exhibition game.

Anderson, the NFL's leading passer last season, threw 13 and 40-yard TD passes to veteran wide receiver Charlie Joiner. Sheide, from Brigham Young, found tight end Bruce Coslet with a 44-yard pass at 14:22 into the second period.

The Bengals, beaten by Washington and Miami in their first two exhibitions when Anderson was not sharp, added touchdowns on a 17-yard run by Boobie Clark and a 15-yard sprint by Ed Williams.

Kicker Dave Green, who converted after each touchdown, booted a 44-yard field goal.

Buffalo's scores came on a nine-yard pass from Joe Ferguson to Reuben Gant, a 24-yard return of an interception by Dwight Harrison, and a 13-yard run by Gary Hayman.

Willie D. says bye-bye

ATLANTA (AP) — Outfielder Willie Davis, plagued by financial woes stemming from a broken marriage, left the St. Louis Cardinals Friday before the team's night game in Atlanta and was immediately placed on the disqualified list, a spokesman for the National League club said.

The effect of such a move, the spokesman said, was that Davis will not receive his salary and the club can fill his opening on the active roster with another player.

Rams, 49ers renew rivalry

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The coaches insist it will be a barn-burner, but there are a number of disturbing facts about Saturday night's Los Angeles-San Francisco 49er exhibition game.

—The Rams, 10-4 last season, demolished Dallas, 35-7, in their National Football League preseason opener last week.

—The 49ers, 6-8 last season, scored a close, 17-13 victory over Cleveland in their opener, and Cleveland finished 4-10 last year.

—The Rams have won 11 of their last 12 exhibitions against the 49ers and nine straight league games over the Bay Area crew.

The 49ers, however, have acquired speedy wide receiver Bob Hayes from Dallas during the off season, and quarterback Steve Carter, the top candidate for the 49er quarterback job, has apparently recovered from an injury which kept him out of the Cleveland game. And the 49ers are talking a good fight.

"The squad will be ready to go," vows San Francisco Coach Dick Nolan. "They'll be treating it as more than a preseason game because the rivalry with the Rams is something a little special and that's even heightened because of the Rams' domination of us the last few years."

And Tom Owen, who will start for the 49ers at quarterback Saturday night, agrees.

"We're going to be ready because the Rams are kind of always in the back of our minds, because they're in our division and they're a team we have to beat. It's always a special occasion to play the Rams."

Not to be outdone in the battle to show respect for the other team, Rams' Coach Chuck Knox says he also expects a tough game.

"They are always tough for us and they played an excellent game beating Cleveland... At the end of last year they won four out of their last five and they're a greatly improved team," he said.

The Rams will start virtually the same lineup as the one which decimated Dallas, one which is virtually the same as that which won the Western Division championship in 1974. Rich Saul replaces Ken Iman at center and Bill Nelson moves in at defensive tackle for Larry Brooks, who is mending an injured toe.

Knox says that while trying to win he'll also try to get a good look at as many players as possible. Quarterback James Harris, who completed 7 of 10 passes against Dallas, will split duty with Ron Jaworski, who played in the second half against the Cowboys, hitting on 6 of 8 passes for 115 yards and a touchdown.

The Rams also plan to give a lot of playing time to the host of runners who outgained Dallas 257 to 83. They include Lawrence McCutcheon, Jim Bertelsen, Cullen Bryant, John Capelletti, Rob Scribner and Tony Baker.

Hayes, who caught three passes for 43 yards last week, will share the 49ers' wide receiving duties with all-pro Gene Washington.

They will be formidable challenges to the Rams defenders if Owen, Spurrier and 15-year veteran Norm Snead can get them the ball while sharing the quarterbacking duties.

Second-year man Keith Fahnhorst will start for the second straight week ahead of 15-year veteran Len Rhode at left tackle.

Defensively, Bill Sandifer, a sophomore from UCLA, will start again at left tackle ahead of Bill Belk, who started there last year.

Right linebacker Dave Washington, acquired from Buffalo only about 10 days ago, will also make his second start. Washington intercepted a pass and returned it 25 yards in his debut last week.

"I was very encouraged with our defense," Nolan said after 49er defenders held Cleveland on downs twice inside the 15-yard line in the fourth quarter.

"On offense we were a little sloppy but not too bad for an opening game."

NFL exhibition roundup

Injured Namath to play

Joe Namath, the high-priced, gimpy-kneed quarterback, already is experiencing physical problems and the National Football League exhibition season is barely underway.

Despite a slight muscle pull in Namath's right side, New York Jets Coach Charley Winner plans to use Namath for a least half of tonight's game against the Cardinals in St. Louis. It probably will be the first half. Namath played almost half of the Jets' 20-15 victory over Minnesota last week.

Jim Hart is scheduled to start at quarterback for the Cardinals, who beat Kansas City 10-3 last week.

In other games today, Atlanta plays Baltimore at Lincoln, Neb.; San Francisco is at Los Angeles; Chicago meets Green Bay in Milwaukee; Washington is at Houston; Detroit is at Miami; Philadelphia is at Cleveland; the New York Giants play at San Diego and Denver meets the Saints in the New Orleans Superdome.

Pittsburgh plays Oakland at Berkeley, Calif., and Minnesota is at New England Sunday. Dallas plays at Kansas City Monday night.

The weekend schedule opened Friday night with Cincinnati at Buffalo.

Fans at Lincoln, used to watching top-notch college players, could get to see a 1975 college star, quarterback Steve Bartkowski, make his pro debut. The former California player might see some duty for Atlanta against the Baltimore.

Chicago might also take a look at a rookie quarterback, Bob Avellini from Maryland, against Green Bay.

Washington will be looking for its first victory and its first touchdown in three pre-season meetings with Houston.

Detroit will be looking for its first touchdown of the year when the Lions, beaten 34-0 by Oakland last week, test Miami. The Dolphins, without Larry Czonka and Jim Kiick, who now run for Memphis in the World Football League, got 78 yards on the ground from Don Nottingham and 71 from Ben Malone in 7-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Nastase makes semis

TORONTO (AP) - Ilie Nastase of Romania, displaying a sense of humor and fine clay court tennis, outplayed sixth-seeded John Alexander of Australia 6-3, 6-7, 6-2 Friday to advance to the men's semifinals at the Canadian Open tennis championships.

There were five service breaks in the first set, but Nastase's superior net play and his passing shots gave him the edge.

In the second set, Alexander built up a 4-1 lead as Nastase displayed his only burst of temper during some questionable line calls.

The turning point in the match came during the tiebreaker, at 7-4 for Nastase. A base-line volley by Nastase was clearly out, but the linesman did not make a call on the play.

Alexander protested, and after much discussion, the referee overruled the linesman, giving the point to Alexander, who went on to clinch the tiebreaker, 11-9, and the set.

Nastase took a 4-1 lead in the third set with an array of spectacular shots.

Hart wins

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) - Gene "Cyclone" Hart of Philadelphia slugged his way to an easy decision over Sugar Ray Seales of Tacoma, Wash., in a 10-round middleweight fight here in Convention Hall Friday night.

Thirteen hundred fans and a national television audience watched the 150-pound Hart improve his record to 28-5-1. It was only the second loss for the 155-pound Seales who has won 28 and fought one draw.

Sun faces Hawaiians

HONOLULU, HAWAII — The Southern California Sun hopes its visit here will be anything but a vacation. Tom Fears' club hopes to rebound after the worst defeat in the history of the Sun tonight against the host Hawaiians in a World Football League game at Honolulu Stadium.

The 10:30 p.m. (PDT) kickoff will be carried live on television by KTTV (Channel 11) and radio by KABC (790) with Tom Kelly and Bob Fouts calling play-by-play, respectively. Bill Welsh will serve as color analyst on television and Superfan on radio.

Southern California is coming off a 54-22 defeat in San Antonio that saw the Sun turn the ball over ten times on six pass interceptions and four fumbles.

It was very distasteful," said Fears. "I've never had a team give up so many points. We just have to discount it and start all over."

Hawaii, like the Sun carries a 1-1 mark into the contest, defeated Portland, 25-24, last week on safety Phil Andre's 43-yard return of a recovered fumble.

Pat Haden, who took over at quarterback for the Sun at the end of the first quarter against San Antonio, is expected to start this week against either Sonny Sixkiller or Rick Cassata.

Sixkiller has been impressive coming off the bench for the Hawaiians in relief duty for Cassata.

Against San Antonio, Haden completed 24 of 40 passes for 313 yards and a team record three touchdowns. The rookie from USC also tied a club record of three interceptions, established earlier in the game by Mike Ernst.

"Haden buys his own time back there," says Fears. "He was outstanding under the conditions. He got out of a lot of trouble when our blocking didn't hold up."

Sixkiller, a rookie from the University of Washington, has completed 10 of 17 passes for 113 yards and a score. Cassata is a seventh-year pro from Syracuse.

Fears also has great respect for the Hawaiians running game led by Calvin Hill, who suffered a back sprain against Portland but is expected to be ready for the Sun.

"Calvin means ball control," says Fears. "He is also a good receiver and a threat to break it at any time."

Hill was held to just 18 yards on nine carries against Portland last week after rushing for 155 yards on 32 tries in the season opener against Philadelphia.

The Sun will counter with Anthony Davis, the talented rookie from the University of Southern California. Davis goes into this week's contest with 147 yards on 36 carries.

Basketball bill has top stars

LOS ANGELES — Best of the pros clashes with best of the collegians Sunday evening at Cal St. Los Angeles men's gymnasium when the 1975 Southern California Pro Summer Basketball League winds up with its annual All-Star Game.

League Executive Director Dick Marquis has matched a superb College All-Americans squad against the Pro All-Stars for a 7 p.m. tipoff, preceded by the U.S. Olympic Development League's finale, pitting the Desert All-Stars against the Ocean All-Stars at 5:30 p.m.

Kentucky Colonels super-star center Artis Gilmore and Los Angeles Lakers brilliant forward Cazzie Russell will lead the Pros, whose roster combines standouts from the National and American Basketball Associations.

The Collegians have such nuggets at UCLA's Dave Meyers, Furman's Clyde Mayes, Kentucky's Jimmy Dan Connors, USC's Gus Williams and John Lambert, Nevada-Las Vegas' Ricky Sobers, Louisville's Junior Bridgeman, Cal State Long Beach's Clifton Pondexter, and Canisius' Larry Fogle.

Loyola University's Dick Baker, who will coach the College All-Americans, has added UCLA's Pete Trgovich and Cal State Long Beach's Bob Gross, two more local favorites, along with Brian Hammel of Bentley.

The Pros, coached by the Lakers' Larry Creager, will feature Russell and Lucius Allen from the Lakers, Paul Westphal and Curtis Perry of Phoenix, John Drew of Atlanta, Danny Anderson of Portland, Jim Fox of Seattle, and Glenn McDonald of Boston as their NBA contingent.

ABA stalwarts include Gilmore, Dan Issel, and Bird Averitt of Kentucky, George Gervin of San Antonio, Mack Calvin of Virginia, Dick Snyder and Jim Brewer of Cleveland. The 12-man high school all-star teams seem evenly matched, with Lee Porter directing the Ocean All-Stars and Ed Koehnke handling the Desert All-Stars.

Among the Ocean elite are Dorsey's Ray (Flint) Williams, Fremont's Johnny Washington, San Gabriel's Ray Ellis, and Cape Girardeau, Mo.'s Stan Ray.

The Desert team includes Verbum Dei's Roy Hamilton, Crespi's Paul Mokeski, Washington's Tony Zeno, and Garey's Sonny Baldez.

Tickets for the double-barreled all-star attractions are priced at $3 (downstairs) and $2 (balcony) and will be available at the door. Proceeds will be used to benefit "Athletes in Action."

Vulcans can take first place in WFL

By The Associated Press
The Birmingham Vulcans, with quarterback Matthew Reed ready for fulltime duty, get a chance to take first place in the World Football League's Eastern Division from the idle Memphis Southmen tonight.

But the job won't be easy for the Vulcans, 2-0, who will play at Jacksonville, 0-1 after scaring Memphis before losing 27-26 last week.

Reed didn't start in the Vulcans' 23-17 victory over Philadelphia last week because of a bruised hip, but he came off the bench and ran for two touchdowns. Johnny Musso, Art Cantrell and Joe Profit key a strong running attack for the Vulcans, who are the league's top defensive team.

Quarterback George Mira passed for two touchdowns for Jacksonville against Memphis. The Express also has the running of Alford Haywood and Tommy Reamon, who was the WFL's leading rusher in 1974.

In other games, all at night, San Antonio, 3-0 and the Western Division leader, is at Charlotte, 0-2; Philadelphia, 1-1, at Shreveport, 1-1; Southern California, 1-1, at the Hawaiians, 1-1, and Portland, 0-2, at Chicago 0-2.

San Antonio and Charlotte will be meeting for the second time this season. The Wings won the first time 27-10. San Antonio exploded for 31 points in the third quarter in 54-22 win over Southern California last week, holding Anthony Davis to 45 yards rushing. But the Wings gave up 313 yards passing to Pat Haden. This week the San Antonio pass defense will be tested by Brian Dowling.

Philadelphia quarterback King Corcoran will be trying to limber up after having a longest completion of just 14 yards against Birmingham. The Bell also will get its running corps of JJ Jennings, John Land and Claude Watts untracked at Shreveport. The Steamer rolls behind the running of Virgil Robinson and Jim Nance and the passing of Edd Hargett.

Chicago will count heavily on the passing of Pete Beathard. But the Winds will need some rushing production from Cyril Pinder and Mark Keller if they are to win the home opener against Portland on Abe Giron Appreciation Night. Giron, the Winds coach, played and coached for the Chicago Bears of the NFL. Portland also needs some running to support the passing of Don Horn.

Lynn, Rice are much alike

BOSTON (AP) — Fred Lynn and Jim Rice grew up 3,000 miles apart, were schoolboy sports heroes and took different routes to the American League. Now they are rookie sensations with the Boston Red Sox.

Both are outfielders with exceptional hitting ability. But Lynn is white, a product of the University of Southern California and left-handed. Rice is black, by-passed college for the big leagues and is a big right-handed slugger.

However, they have much in common, with super status predicted for both by most baseball observers. It has been 25 years since rookie teammates drove in 100 runs apiece—Al Rosen and Luke Easter did it for the Cleveland Indians. Lynn and Rice appear sure bets to do it with the Red Sox.

"You can't say enough about these two young men," Boston Manager Darrell Johnson said. "They're alike in so many ways. Both are exceptional baseball players, at bat and in the field. Both are quiet but highly competitive. They are very mature with even temperaments."

Lynn and Rice met for the first time in 1973. After helping USC to three NCAA championships, Lynn signed with the Red Sox and joined Bristol of the Eastern League, where Rice already was mauling pitchers in his third year in pro ball.

They became friends. The mutual admiration society continued last year at Pawtucket in the International League. They helped each other and earned All-Star berths. Rice won the league's most valuable player award, batting .337 with 25 home runs and 93 RBI before being promoted to Boston in August.

Lynn remained at Pawtucket until the end of the IL season, batting .282 with 21 home runs and 66 RBI. He hit even better in a few games with Boston last September.

Now the Dynamic Duo is running neck and neck for AL rookie of the year honors. The league never has had co-rookie awards, but it could happen this year. "Everyone asks me whether Fred or I should win the award," Rice says with a grin. "I honestly don't know. Fred may be a better fielder because of his arm, but I think I'm a better hitter. It really doesn't matter as long as we do our best and help the club win. Winning is the big thing."

"I really don't think about it," Lynn says about the rookie award. "You just want to do your best. If Jimmy and I have big years, the club is going to benefit. I'm just very happy to be here and contributing."

Lynn, who turned 23 last Feb. 3, starred in baseball, football and basketball at Elmonte High School in California. Drafted by the New York Yankees, he rejected a $38,000 bonus and accepted a USC scholarship for football. After his freshman year, he quit football to concentrate on baseball.

In the draft in June, 1973, the Red Sox made infielder Ted Cox their No. 1 selection then picked Lynn in the second round. Cox still is a "future prospect," hitting .330 for Winston-Salem in the Class A Carolina League.

Lynn signed after graduation for a reported $40,000 bonus. Now a worth $100,000 without nominating fees. Timeto Thinkrich, the second richest quarter horse in history, is closing in on $600,000 won in his career. She's Precious, meanwhile, has won 12 of the 19 races she's started and is bidding, with Elan Again, for national older mare of the year honors. Elan Again is another horse given a good chance to win the championship here.

Elan Again has only one victory in this summer meeting, but it came in the glance at the American League leaders shows what he's doing in just his second full year in pro baseball. "I enjoyed football and basketball, but my first love has always been baseball, since my father started playing catch with me when I was four years old," Lynn said. "Everything is a dream come true."

Rice, only 22, is something of a legend in Anderson, S.C. In the eighth grade, he hit a line drive 390 feet, playing on the high school team. He starred in track and basketball, too, but it was baseball all the way for him.

"I didn't have to teach him anything, he always could hit a baseball," Rice's first coach, John W. Moore, said. "He was gifted with ability and amazing coordination. From the time he started, he did nothing but get better."

Rice was bombarded with college scholarships, but he couldn't wait to sign with the Red Sox when he became a No. 1 draft pick at the age of 17 in June, 1971.

Lynn signed after graduation for a reported $40,000 bonus. Now a fired following last year's 5-9 regular season and had the public booing him every time he stepped out of doors. "My style is different from that of my predecessor," Wiggins said, "but I have a lot of respect for him. I was sitting in the head coach's office, and the first thing you see is that Super Bowl Trophy. 'You can't win that in spite of a coach. You win it because everyone is working together. I want that to happen here.'"

Wiggins said he is "idealistic...almost to the point of being unrealistic at times. I think, in the long run, that will pay off for me."

Wiggins, who doesn't look the type, admitted he has a temper. "I don't build up slowly," he said, "and then get mad. I just explode but after I explode, it's all over."

Wiggins is dead serious as he goes about his task of trying to put the pieces back together after taking over from dapper Hank Stram. Stram, the Chiefs' only other head coach, was

Lutz in net win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Second-seeded Bob Lutz came back from a one-set deficit after a two-hour rain delay Friday to advance to the semifinals of the $50,000 Buckeye Tennis Championships with a 16, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Sherwood Stewart.

Lutz, of San Clemente, Calif., will face fifth-seeded Tom Gorman, who advanced with a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Jim Delaney of Potomac, Md.

Also in the field of 10 is Flight 109, the third winningest stakes horse in Los Alamitos history with 14 triumphs. The only horses who have won more races at this Orange County racing facility are the famed Kaweah Bar and Charger Bar.

Hitters fail to agree

By Associated Press
"All You've Ever Wanted to Know About Hitting" is a collection of theories by three of baseball's top stars who can't agree on much of anything about the science of hitting.

Cincinnati's Pete Rose, Boston's Carl Yastrzemski and Minnesota's Rod Carew have one thing in common—they bat left-handed, although Rose does that only part of the time.

Despite their different philosophies they already have accounted for 10 batting titles, and Carew is a cinch to make it 11 when he notches his fourth straight crown and the fifth of his career this year.

"I liked it better when the mound was high," said Yastrzemski, who is 12 days short of his 36th birthday. "A guy my size can't supply the power to hit home runs, and a pitcher had more on the ball when the mound was higher."

Yastrzemski has won three American League batting championships with one included in his 1967 Triple Crown when he also led the AL in home runs and runs batted in.

"I've always felt that if you're not hitting, then it's up to a guy to do something about it," Yaz said. "And, on the other hand, when you're swinging well, you could care less who is pitching."

Rose believes the National League's artificial surfaces are widely misunderstood and that relief pitching has taken away a lot from the game's hitters.

"The relief pitching is almost getting ridiculous," said Rose. Some guy making $60,000 a year comes in and gets two guys out and then another guy comes in — he's probably making $70,000 — and gets another guy out, and most likely it's the number eight or nine hitter."

The 33-year-old Rose entered the 1975 season with a .309 lifetime batting average and has had more than 200 hits six times in his career, including three years in succession.

"In 1973, when I got 230 hits, I was the only guy on our team who had much success at Riverfront Stadium," said Rose. "I really think people are misled about the turf. Some turf is beneficial. I'd say dirt and turf are good for a hitter. St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Houston are good hitting parks."

Carew, who has the highest lifetime batting average among active players in the major leagues, and the switch-hitting Rose are not power hitters like Yastrzemski.

"Why try to do something you're not cut out to do," says Carew. "I am not the kind of hitter who hits a lot of home runs, but I can make a good living hitting and stealing bases."

Carew, at 29 the youngest of the trio, says the World Series is his only goal. Yastrzemski and Rose already have been in World Series competition.

"I've done about everything else," said the Minnesota second baseman. "The World Series is the big apple that's left for me."

Yastrzemski says Carew is the best hitter in the game today and Rose tends to agree, although he hasn't had many opportunities to see the Twins' slasher.

"Carew must be something from what I've seen and heard of him," said Rose. "I know he gets the most out of what he's got and he's a great bunter."

All three have a strong chance to get 3,000 hits before stepping aside.

Yastrzemski started the season with 2,267 hits and 303 home runs.

"I won't count myself out," said Yastrzemski. "Age isn't as important as a lot of people make it out to be."

The Red Sox slugger also wants to play in another World Series, preferably this fall and perhaps across the chalklines from Rose, who wants to be remembered as the game's best switch-hitter.

"I think 2,880 hits is the record for a switch-hitter," said Rose, who entered this year with 2,337 base hits.

Carew still has a long road ahead for 3,000 hits, but he should reach the halfway mark by the end of the season. And, he apparently has established himself as a .375 hitter who will get 200 hits a year for several seasons, barring injury.

Rose may have been the happiest player in the NL when Los Angeles peddled southpaw reliever Jim Brewer this summer, because the Dodgers lefty was murder on the Reds' third baseman.

"I've even tried hitting left-handed against him," said Rose. "I just can't seem to pick up his screwball. One hit is all I can remember getting off Brewer."

Carew's chief tormentor also is a lefty, New York's Rudy May.

"He's got my number all right," said Carew. "I can't even remember getting one hit off him."

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Curtis Strange scored a 170-yard hole-in-one and breezed to a 4-under-par 66 to retain leadership in the Eastern Amateur golf tournament Friday.

Strange's 36-hole total of 133 left him two strokes in front of the field entering Saturday's third round.

Frisbee golf now available

PASADENA (AP) — What officials term the world's first frisbee golf course opens for play at Oak Grove Park this weekend.

The game is played like miniature golf — with players tossing frisbees for distance, then zeroing in on the green's iron pole target.

Two nine-hole courses are used.

Park officials admit it's an unusual sport and say they will evaluate how popular the 18-hole layout becomes. But they recall that frisbee tossing is so well liked by the locals that the Rose Bowl once was used for a frisbee tournament.

The slight costs of converting the park were picked up by a frisbee manufacturer, officials said.

Auto racers joining sports' millionaires

By JERRY GARRETT
AP Sports Writer
Pit Road is looking more like Millionaires Row these days.

Auto racing, besides being a quick way to get banged up, is one of the quicker ways to earn money.

By unofficial count, there are 10 active drivers who have won more than $1 million in prize money so far in their careers.

The newest members of that club are 1974 Indianapolis 500 champ Johnny Rutherford and stock car veteran Cale Yarborough.

Rutherford had earned $996,257 in U.S. Auto Club sanctioned races through Aug. 1, but his participation in other types of racing, including Grand National stock cars, pushed him over the top.

Yarborough's NASCAR earnings through Aug. 1 are still $47,745 short of the $1 million mark, but he's also cleared more than $88,000 in earlier showings in Indianapolis-style racing.

The all-time top money winner is A.J. Foyt, who passed the $2.5 million barrier earlier this season and is well on his way to $3 million. Foyt has won money in so many types of racing in his 20-year career, it's been hard to keep tabs on all of it.

Stock car ace Richard Petty joined Foyt in over $2 million by finishing second in the 500-mile Grand National race at Pocono International Raceway Aug. 3. Unlike the rest of the 10 millionaires, Petty's earnings have come almost exclusively from NASCAR racing.

Foyt became racing's first millionaire in 1967, the year he won his third and last Indianapolis 500.

Petty took 550 races through 1971 to join Foyt.

The 40-year-old Foyt, now enjoying his finest season, has won nearly everything he's gone after in 1975 including nearly $500,000 in prize money.

The youngest of the seven-figure winners is Mario Andretti, at 35. He edged over $1 million last season, despite a poor year.

The oldest millionaire is somewhat of a surprise member of the category—Roger McCluskey, a journeyman Indy-car racer and a long-time campaigner in USAC stock cars. McCluskey will be 45 on Aug. 24.

The other millionaires are Bobby and Al Unser, David Pearson and Bobby Allison.

Eight rivals on Columbia's football schedule beat the Lions in 1974.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Follow your instincts where ambitious interests are concerned today. Don't let detractors throw you off-course.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Leave your work in the office or shop today. Injecting business into a social situation will spoil your fun.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Take care of a family matter that has commercial overtones early today. This is a top-priority issue. It must be attended to NOW.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you come face-to-face with a relative who has an old ax to grind, side-step the issue today. It can't be settled. Hard feelings could result.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't let someone dictate how and what you should spend your money for. Unless they share your obligations, they have no right to talk.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your easygoing, fun-loving mood makes you vulnerable to a con job by one with selfish motives. Careful who you grubstake.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Service to family above self is most beneficial to you today, though you'll try to fight it. You'll be glad you gave into nobler instincts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Suppress your more serious motives today. Get in the swim of things with friends who know you need to let your hair down.

DOWN WITH SARAH — A plywood painting of Lady Sarah is removed Friday from a government construction site in the nation's capital after the General Services Administrator Arthur Sampson ordered her removed. Lady Sarah wore a scanty bikini which the artist said would wash away in the rain, leaving the complete and unexpurgated Sarah on view. The hand was added by the artist as a final protest to the removal.

Egypt and Israeli accord reopens some Arab wounds

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)

The prospective American-sponsored Sinai accord between Egypt and Israel has reopened a suspicion-laden rift between President Anwar Sadat and the Palestinians. Syria, Sadat's chief ally against Israel, also is showing increased nervousness at the optimistic reports from Cairo and talk of a new Middle East trip by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

The Syrians and Palestinians once again are afraid Sadat is selling short their interests in his desire to work out a peaceful settlement for the good of Egypt and its staggering economy.

Their fears rekindle similar resentment that ran heavy last March when Kissinger also seemed to be on the verge of a new Sinai disengagement accord.

They undermine a reconciliation that came after Kissinger's March mission collapsed and Sadat pledged to Palestinians and Syrians alike that he would insist on including them in any new negotiations.

"Sadat's trust in American promises is the basis for the catastrophe in the Middle East — the present one and the future one," said Yasir Abed Rabbo, a top aide to Yasir Arafat and the head of his Palestine Liberation Organization's information department.

"All the propaganda that Sadat is spreading about the next step being in Syria is nonsense," Rabbo added in an interview. "It is only Sadat's wish."

Zuhair Mohsin, head of the PLO's military department, told a local news agency that the Sinai agreement as outlined in advance speculation is "shameful."

Mohsin also is leader of the Syrian-backed Saika guerrilla group. His comments were believed to reflect official concern by Syrian President Hafez Assad as well as PLO anger at being left out of the deal.

The agreement will freeze the conflict for a long period to come without any guarantees there will be any further Israeli withdrawal from any of the occupied land," he charged.

That was an obvious allusion to the occupied Golan Heights, where an Israeli pullout always has been considered far more complicated than in the Sinai Desert.

"We believe the Golan is an inseparable part of the whole case," Assad said recently, revealing his concern. "If there is to be a settlement, then it must embrace all elements of the case and not just one part of it."

There have been reports that Sadat and President Ford have assured Assad personally they will turn to getting a Golan disengagement just as soon as the Sinai pullout goes into effect.

But Rabbo insisted that once the Sinai agreement falls into place the Israelis will have less incentive to wrestle with the thorny Golan issue, while Ford will become subject to 1976 reelection pressures.

"If there are going to be any talks on the Golan Heights, it will be early next year," Rabbo said. "And by that time neither the Israelis nor the Americans will, for internal reasons, be able to discuss anything on the Golan."

While upset that their Syrian benefactors are being set on the back burner, the Palestinians are chiefly concerned that Egypt and Israel are talking without taking the Palestinian question into consideration.

"We know it is in the U.S. plan and the Israeli plan to postpone as long as possible any consideration of the Palestinian issue," Rabbo said. "We must prove once again that the Palestinian question is the core of the problem."

He said the proof would come as a result of recent PLO resolutions to intensify the drive against Tel Aviv in the United Nations and step up terror attacks inside Israel.

Ashy remains to get burial 65 years after bizarre triple slaying

CAZADERO, Calif. (AP) — When Rex Nance bought the general store in this tiny Northern California community, he was told that there were "a couple of jars full of people somewhere in the store."

He found them — two quart-size jars containing ashy remains of three victims of a bizarre murder still unsolved after 65 years. Nance said he felt "kind of weird" and decided they should be buried.

From those humble beginnings grew elaborate funeral plans that have captured the collective fancy of this town of 150 but not of county officials, who disapprove.

Nonetheless, the funeral — complete with cortege — is still scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

The remains are those of Tom Kendall and his parents, Enoch and Eura. Their bodies were chopped up, burned and scattered around a ranch a few miles north of here in 1910. A woodcutter suspected of committing the crime was never found.

The ashes had been collected as evidence and put into jars that were placed in the store for safekeeping. Nance bought the store last year and found the jars in the attic last March.

"We are going to make this funeral the biggest thing that's happened in Cazadero since, since, well since the Kendalls were murdered," said Gary L. Rodgers, one of the organizers of the funeral.

Nance and a friend, Wayne Dunham, obtained a burial permit. But Sonoma County officials later revoked it because there are no death records and the two are not relatives of the Kendalls.

"There's no health hazard, and there's no positive identification of these ashes as human remains, so we say to hell with it, we're going to bury 'em anyway," Dunham asserted.

"The Cazaderans know what's in those jars, and they're having a ball," he said.

Urns containing the ashes will be carried to a burial site outside town on a mule-drawn buckboard. Rodgers said he will recite a brief eulogy and his nephew, Dean Forshee, will play a dirge he composed for the services — "The Ballad of the Kendalls."

Nance said he had expected something simpler.

An educational journey into space

Antique wise Q. and A.

By Dorothy Hammond
Q. What is the value of this very old butcher's meat block? It is made of laminated blocks of oak, dovetailed in. It has removable legs, with 3-inch inserts into blocks of wood and weighs about 100 pounds. It is 31 inches high, and the block measures 20 1/2 inches square, and 10 inches deep. Thank you for any information.

A. These attractive old meat blocks usually sell from $125 upward to around $175 in this condition.

Q: I am interested in knowing the value of a piece of John Rogers statuary — "Going For The Cows." The date on this piece is December 2, 1873. The statue appears to be a plaster of Paris type material. I will appreciate your opinion of its approximate value and any other information you might have about the artist. W. B. A: Your John Rogers group is presently valued around $500, providing it is in excellent condition. John Rogers (1829-1904), an American sculptor, produced his first statue in 1859. His putty-colored plaster groups, cast in glue molds made from bronze master models, were extremely popular during the Victorian era. Eighty different figures were made, and between 1860 and 1893, an enthusiastic public purchased an estimated eighty thousand copies. Today, those remaining examples are much sought after by collectors.

A New Era in Catalina Travel

Postal service for 200 years

By GUSTAV DETJEN JR.
A block of four 1975 U.S. Postal Service Bicentennial stamps will be issued on Sept. 3 in Philadelphia, Pa. The designs contrast old and new methods of transporting mail.

The upper left stamp in the block depicts a stage coach and a modern tractor-trailer truck. The upper right stamp shows a 19th century steam locomotive in the foreground and a modern locomotive in the background. The lower left stamp contrasts an early mail plane with a modern jet, while the lower right stamp depicts a satellite by which MAILGRAMS are transmitted. First day cancellation requests should be addressed to "USPS Bicentennial Stamps, Postmaster, Philadelphia, PA 19109." The cost is 10 cents per stamp to be affixed to the self-addressed envelopes which must accompany orders (40 cents if you want a block of four). Remittance must be in the form of check or money order. Orders must be postmarked no later than Sept. 3.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S YEAR COVER

The Women's Hall of Fame is sponsoring an official first day cover for the forthcoming 10-cent International Women's Year stamp which will be released on Aug. 26. The official Women's Hall of Fame IWY, first-day cover features a distinctive ArtCraft cachet and is priced at 75 cents each or three covers for $2. Orders should be sent to the Women's Hall of Fame, P.O. Box 335, Seneca Falls, N.Y. 13148. Send a SASE for unaddressed covers.

If you've ever done much walking along Pomona's sidewalks, you've undoubtedly at some time seen the name FLEMING inscribed in the cement. And if your curiosity wasn't aroused, it should have been! For I'll have you understand that fellow FLEMING was responsible for what was once described as "the largest single contract for street improving ever let in Pomona." You can read all about it in the Friday, Aug. 19, 1904, issue of The Pomona Daily Review. But since, for most of you, that would be a reading assignment rather difficult to accomplish, I'll reprint the story here; and then the next time you are walking along a Pomona sidewalk and see that name in the cement, you will perhaps experience an emotion of mingled wonder and respect something akin to that of the archeologist who suddenly realizes he has visual proof that he is treading on the hallowed ground of long forgotten history.

"The public improvements going ahead here are a long way ahead of anything of the kind in any other summer," the story reads. "Lon Fleming's contract for constructing cement sidewalks, curbs, and for grading all streets east, west, north and south in the locality of the new High School is about half done. It is the largest single contract for street improving ever given in Pomona. It will cost in the aggregate of some $21,000 and will add much to the appearance of that part of the city. The contract is being executed in Mr. Fleming's usual workmanship skill. The cement walks are all five feet wide and the curbing of the best of rock. It will require two months to complete the contract although Mr. Fleming has twenty men at work on it all the time."

A theater is for entertainment. A science center is for education.

But at the Reuben E. Fleet Space Theater and Science Center in San Diego's sprawling Balboa Park, both education and entertainment have been combined in each of the facilities.

During the day and evening at hourly intervals, the domed Space Theater presents mind-boggling films of space travel that are as informational as they are exciting, as instructional as beautiful. In the adjoining Science Center, with its "Please touch!" exhibits and displays, everyone from college professors to curious mop-pets is invited to operate a wide variety of experiments with strobe lights, magnets, color wheels, listening devices and other equipment.

The theater-science center complex is the culmination of 16 years of planning and construction. The city formed the non-profit Hall of Science to handle the project, and the citizens passed a $4 million bond issue to build and equip the center. In 1968 the San Diego Planetarium Authority was created through city and county joint-powers agreement.

The theater is named for Maj. Reuben H. Fleet, early air pioneer, one of the founders of Convair (later sold to General Dynamics) and philanthropist, who donated some $500,000 for planetarium equipment.

The planetarium, with its 76-foot spherical dome, is the largest in the western hemisphere. It contains a sophisticated assortment of computers, projectors and sound devices to give the audience the feeling of being in a spaceship traveling through outer space, orbiting the earth, docking with another space vehicle or landing on one of Jupiter's moons.

Besides the spectacular wrap-around dome screen, three times the size of Cinerama, the planetarium has the "star ball," a specially designed instrument for projecting planets and the sun.

"It is the first Space Transit Simulator," says Michael Sullivan, executive director. "It is a new kind of star projection system that gives the sensation of space travel. Altogether we have 88 different projectors simultaneously controlled by a computer."

The Fleet Theater employs Omnimax, the largest motion picture projector in the world, to create its breathtaking illusion of outer space. The current film, "Probes in Space," was created by Graphic Films of Hollywood. For its renditions of Mars, Mercury and Venus, the firm worked in Death Valley, on the lava beds on the California-Arizona border and in sandstorms near Lancaster. For the landscape of Mercury, Graphic Films obtained steel slag pilings from Kaiser Steel Co. in Fontana and assembled them to resemble the pocked and cratered surface of the distant planet.

The film includes live action, stop action, animation, aerial views and multi-media techniques. The scenes are based on photographs from National Aeronautics and Space Administration space probes — Mariner, Pioneer and Viking.

Accompanying "Probes in Space" is brief, fast-moving and unusual travelogue of Baja California, much of it filmed from a low-flying airplane. "Viva Baja!" also includes underwater scenes of skin-divers exploring coves and reefs, and some shots of the California grey whales frolicking in Scammon's Lagoon.

At various times hours daily except Wednesdays and Thursdays the Space Theater presents evening performances of "Laserium," an hour-long "cosmic laser concert," composed of flowing colored patterns of laser lights moving to the strains of classic and popular music, a program similar to that offered at the Griffith Observatory in Los Angeles.

In the Science Center, the visitor is urged to push buttons, turn wheels and slide panels to conduct a variety of experiments illustrating scientific principles. By varying the frequency of a strobe light he can "freeze" water dripping from a faucet. Another strobe light will make a turning wheel appear to slow and to move backward. Floating magnets can be moved and turned by a magnet operated by the viewer.

The visitor can look into a lens to see his own eye magnified several times and by turning the light, see his iris expand and contract. He can listen to his own heart beat and see it interpreted on an oscilloscope; he can make water run up hill, and pick up whispers from 70 feet away. The colorful displays combine fun and interest with a learning experience for young and old.

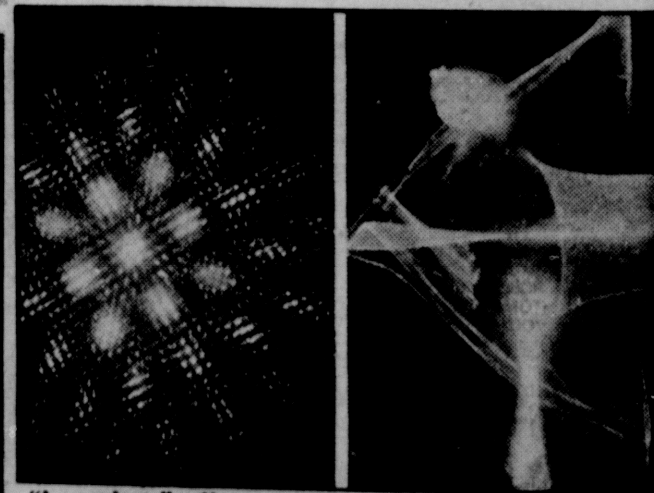

The Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater and Science Museum has proved to be one of the feature attractions of Balboa Park. Since the twin facilities opened in 1973, more than 1.1 million people have visited the theater and museum, the largest attendance of any planetarium in the world.

ON THE COVER

Audiences in the Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater lean back on headrests as they take part in a space voyage to the ringed planet of Saturn, viewed on the 76-foot spherical dome. In the foreground is "star ball," a computer-controlled instrument with 88 different projectors capable of showing thousands of constellations. The Space Theater and adjoining Science Center have been visited by more than 1.1 million people since opening in 1973.

"Laserium" offers weird, colorful laser patterns moving to classical and popular music.

Firm thrives, fits public's needs

Joanna Sales, 1295 S. East End Ave., Pomona, came into being "because the public demanded it," according to the owners, Jeo and Anna Brown.

Brown opened a distributorship for Hollywood Refrigeration at this location in 1962. Two years later, he and his wife founded the major appliance sales firm as a supplement to meet the needs of contractors and remodelers in the valley. Both companies are in the same building.

The firm is open to the public. Anyone who is remodeling a home is invited to come to Joanna Sales and discuss his appliance needs.

"We help people choose the correct stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, micro-wave oven or air conditioner to meet their needs," said Bob Snider, the office manager.

"For instance, when a family selects a refrigerator, more than color or name is involved. We take into consideration the size of the family and their shopping habits.

"In today's economy, we are concerned about the conservation of energy, and about protection for the family."

Brown and Snider work closely with remodeling contractors to see that the customer's demands are met. Brown spent 12 years as a remodeling contractor in the Los Angeles area and is a past president of the Remodeling Contractors Association.

Snider has had many years of experience in home planning and consultation.

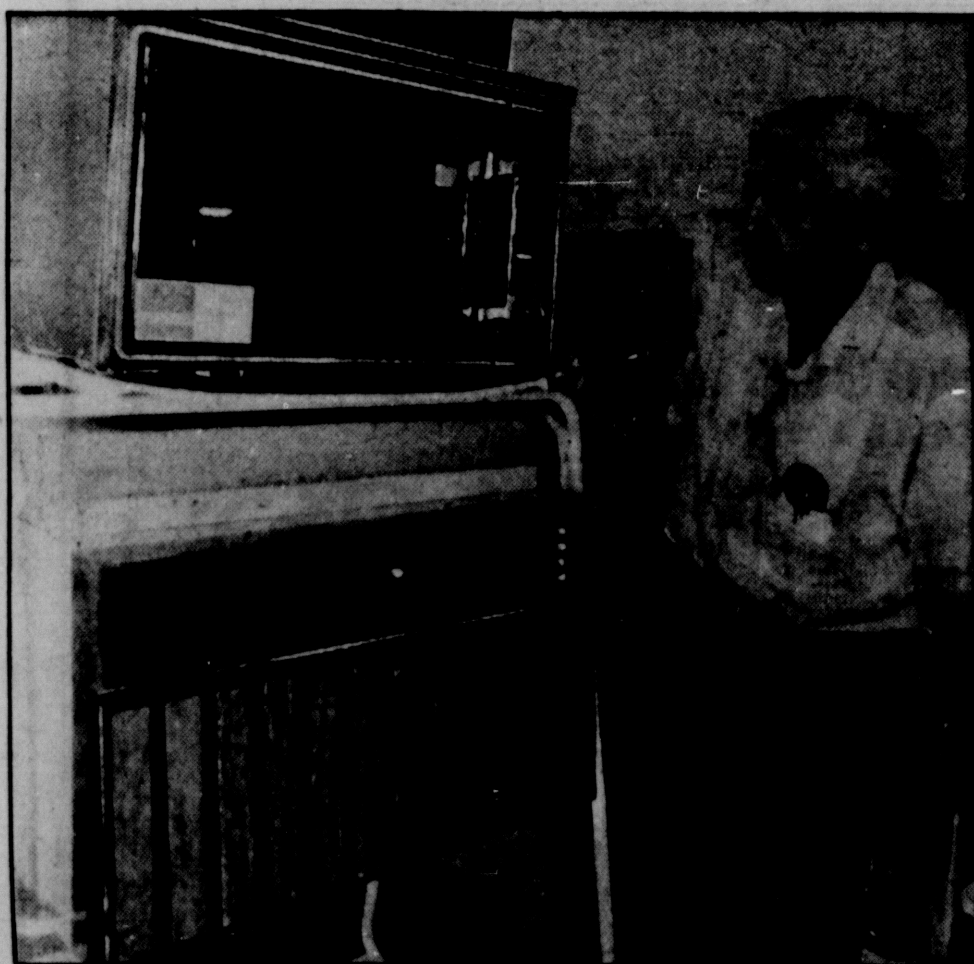

For kitchen remodeling, the firm stocks the newest and fanciest in all brands of electric and gas ranges and barbecues. Its line of range hoods is complete and imaginative. One rangehood saves space by having a spice rack tucked in the front.

Joanna Sales is also developing a complete line of automatic electric gate openers to insure the privacy of the home owner. The firm also supplies security and fire alarm systems and automatic garage door mechanisms.

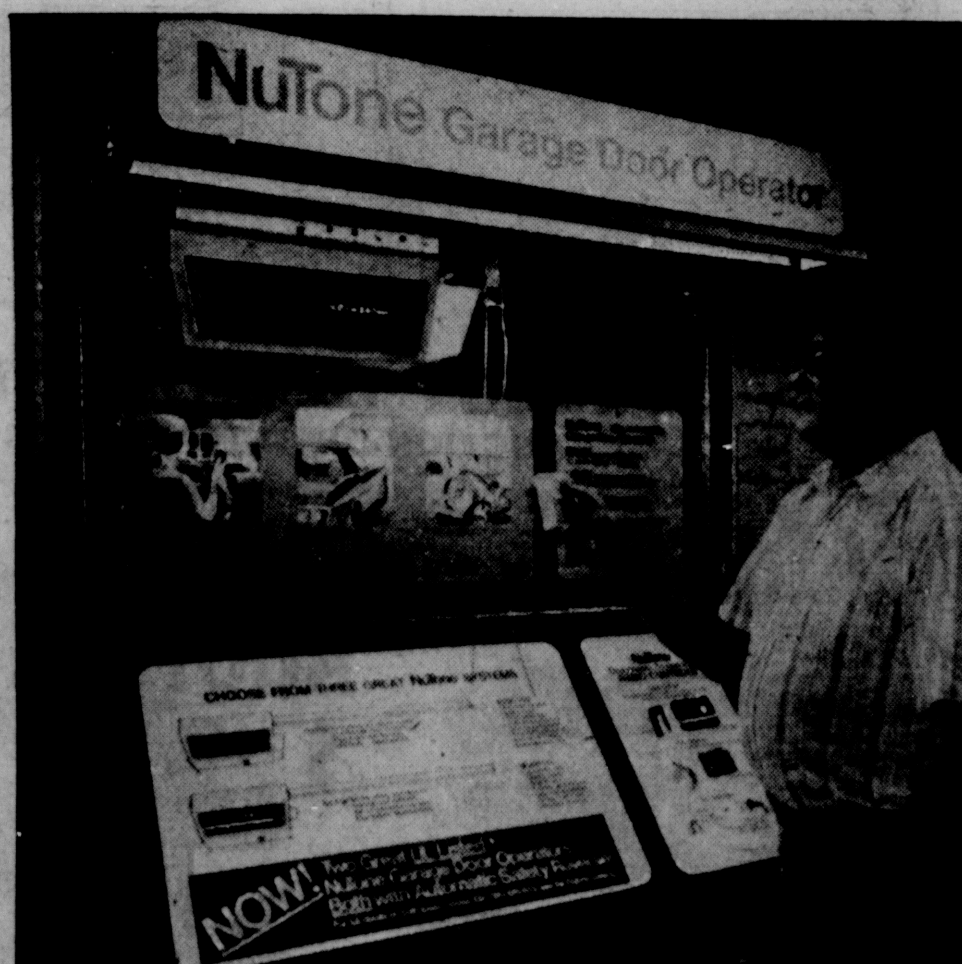

Stereo systems and home intercom systems are available, along with consultation as to which system best meets a family's need.

The firm's business has snowballed in the 11 years since it was founded. It now serves contractors and remodelers from the beach communities and Palm Springs down to the Mexican border, Snider said.

While they serve a large area, they always have time to offer free advice to all interested persons, the owners added.

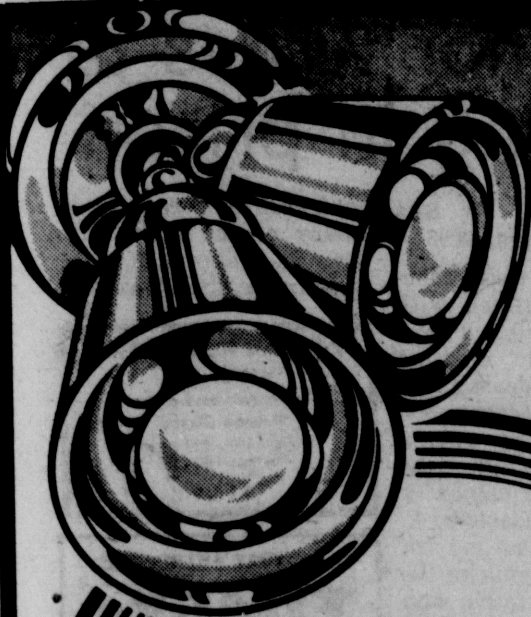

Owner Joe Brown admires micro-wave oven, top, and aircondition unit.

Book offers a profile of Charles O. Finley

By N. C. POLOS
CHARLEY O: Charles Oscar Finley vs. the Baseball Establishment, by Herbert Michelson. Bobbs-Merrill, $7.95.

Dylan Thomas sings: "I see the boys of summer in their ruin; log the gold tithing barren; Setting no store by harvest, freeze the soils." This is easy to understand if you read Roger Kahn's, "The Boys of Summer," a nostalgic look at the Brooklyn Dodgers.

(Nicholas C. Polos is associate professor of history at La Verne College.)

Michelson's book is not nostalgic. Instead he writes cleverly about the baseball world and the controversy that always seems to surround Charles Oscar Finley, the fiery owner of the Oakland Athletics, baseball's World Champions.

Michelson is president of the San Francisco Bay Area Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association, and has covered the Oakland Athletics for the McClatchy Newspaper Chain since the team moved to the West Coast in 1968. He shows the many-sided personality of C. O. Finley. At the outset it is obvious that the author likes baseball so the book has a light touch.

Michelson's main theme is not "Play Ball," but "Will the real Charlie O please stand up!" There is no idolatry here and the author has caught the real essence of the man; we get the poor-boy background, the work in the steel mills, the siege of TB, the struggle for success all sandwiched in with relevant quotes from family, friends, admirers and even enemies.

Finley's story reads like an extract from Horatio Alger traveling a road from poverty to millions. The author has an entertaining style while avoiding journalistic cliches.

Michelson travels back to the early days of "Alabama" Finley, and in interviews which are carefully documented with relatives, and childhood friends, business associates and rivals he discovers a multi-faceted man — Golden Glove boxer, laborer in a steel mill, a ruthlessly aggressive salesman and sports entrepreneur, millionaire, publicity hound, paternal figure — and a man who likes to win.

Perhaps this comes from a fighting background. Born in Birmingham, the son of a machinist, Finley lived there until high school, then his family moved to Gary, Ind. and Finley worked in the mills for $4 per day. During World War II, he worked in an ordnance plant while moonlighting (he sold insurance) when he was stricken with tuberculosis at age 20.

During his stay in the hospital, Finley conceived the idea of group health insurance for doctors that made him a fortune. In 1960 he bought the Kansas City Athletics, a team that had finished in last place at the end of the baseball season.

Like all controversial figures, Finley believed in color and flamboyance. He dressed the As in bright gold and kelly green uniforms and white cleats; while presenting the team with a mascot, a mule named Charlie O.

In time the As became the laughing stock of baseball. Former As pitcher Ted Bowsfield recalled: "Those uniforms were just horrible at first. The Yankees laughed us right off the field."

It seemed that everyone laughed at the As until they moved to Oakland, and by a series of strategic moves (Finley signed "Catfish" Hunter, Reggie Jackson, and Vida Blue) by 1972, Finley had himself the championship.

Finley has been severely criticized for trying to be owner, general manager and team manager.

Michelson fairly examines the background of Finley's share in the turbulent recent history of the Oakland Athletics (the Vida Blue holdout, the brouhaha over Mike Andrews and his "sore" shoulder, the constant squabbles with the team over salary and other matters, and the loss of Hunter to the Yankees).

No one appears to be neutral about Finley, and Michelson presents this honestly. When Finley moved the As from Kansas City to Oakland, Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri called Oakland "the luckiest city since Hiroshima."

Michelson has carefully polled the players and recorded for posterity their observations about Finley. Former As catcher Dave Duncan spoke for all the ball players when he said: "It doesn't matter who manages this ball club. There is only one man who manages this club, Charlie Finley."

Those good old days

By PHIL THOMAS
RAGTIME, by E.L. Doctorow. Random House, $8.95.

The good old days? They weren't.

At least not the way E. L. Doctorow tells it in "Ragtime," a satiric novel set in a turn-of-the-century America that contains such contemporary ailments as grinding poverty, racial violence, war, murder, etc.

Written in an impressionistic style that skillfully blends past fact with Doctorow's fiction, "Ragtime" interweaves the lives of an upper middle class white family, a painfully poor immigrant man and his daughter, and a black jazz pianist forced into violence because of terrible wrongs done him.

Starting off at separate points these three sets of characters slowly, but inexorably, move in lines that will eventually cross each other, resulting in a number of things... violence is one, love another.

In a contrapuntal manner, the lives of these fictional characters are played out against a realistic backdrop peopled by once very real persons such as Harry Houdine, Henry Ford, Emma Goldman, Sigmund Freud and J. P. Morgan.

Author writes of rioting in prison

SLAMMER, By Ben Greer. Atheneum, $8.95.

With prison riots grabbing the headlines with some regularity, it was only a matter of time before a novel dealing with that sort of violence would be written. Thus, "Slammer." Fortunately, the riot, while the climax of this largely readable book, is kept in focus and not allowed to overwhelm the rest of the narrative with its mindless violence and terror.

Author Ben Greer, who a publisher's note informs became a prison guard in order to write this story, maintains a nice balance throughout, carefully building his narrative to its unavoidable climax, the riot.

Depending for the most part on four characters — a priest, a black revolutionary, a newly hired guard, and a not-too-bright prisoner who has been wrongly jailed — Greer builds carefully, showing most logically how the riot had to happen rather than, as a lesser writer might do, having it explode just for the shock value of it.

As first novels go, "Slammer" isn't all bad, although it does contain many of the faults that mar such efforts. It could use some editorial pruning.

Ljubojevic: he's a potential champion

By SHELBY LYMAN

One of the finest young players in the world and a potential world champion is Lubomir Ljubojevic of Yugoslavia. This grand-master of chess catapulted himself into world reknown in the 1973 interzonals in Leningrad, when as an unheralded darkhorse, he grabbed an early lead. He subsequently fizzled out in that competition, but carried the better part of that inspiration into the next year of play (1974), when he won three out of four international tournaments.

Ljubojevic is a highly original attacking player, who surprises again and again with unique ingenuity. He senses attacking possibilities, which are first unanticipated, and then uncomprehended by his opponents. The result for them is often a debacle.

Though I had been apprised of his ability, it was nevertheless an eye opener for me to see this most recent efforts from the 1975 Las Palmas Tournament, which he won ahead of two former world champions, Tal and Petrosian.

His play was incredible! Take for example his game with Pomar. Lubomir, it seems, overreached himself with bewildering and furious innovations. He is behind in material (two rooks for a queen and knight), but has some dangerous threats.

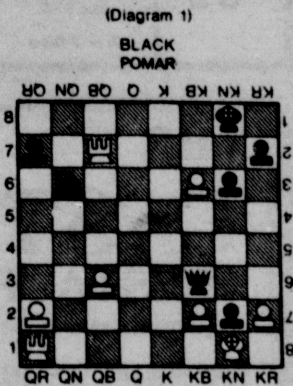

Pomar played 1. N-Q4? and after 2. R-N7 check, K-B1; 3. R-N1, P (KB3); 4. R-KRP, Q-K4?; 5. R-N8 check!, black resigned. (5... QxR loses to 6. R-N8 check, etc.)

In another game, lightning in the form of L. Ljubojevic struck again. In the second diagrammed position (against Olafsson), Lubomir played 1. B-KB3! and black is lost! (For example, if 1... R-R2; 2. PxP, NxP; and 3. B-N7 wins the exchange.)

Olafsson elected to play 1... N-K4, but after 2. BxN, BxB; 3. PxP, R-R2; 4. PxP... white was two pawns ahead with an easy win.

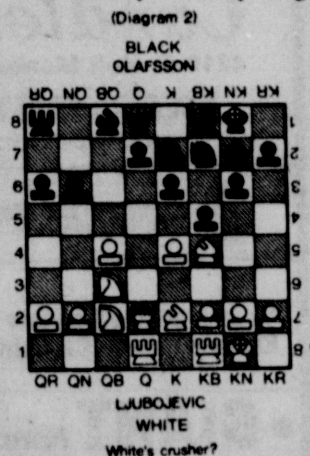

In the third and last game we will consider, Ljubojevic annihilates Henrique Mecking of Brazil.

Chess

The position after white's 21st move especially deserves consideration. (Play through the score.) Black is in a dilemma. His rook is under attack, but if he moves it to N2 or B2, he faces a terrific assault beginning with 1. B-R5.

As it was played white won easily. Our young occupy all of the museum's galleries through Sept. 26, 1976, has already received $130,000 from the National Endowment for the Arts.

The exhibition will contain the works of approximately 165 artists. It will have six sections, American Indian art, 18th and 19th century, 1900-1929, 1930-1949 and 1950-1976.
